We, the UP Cineastes' Studio, denounce the Anti-student organization policies of the Faculty-Student Relations Committee (FSRC) Manual drafted by the administration of the College of Mass Communication (CMC).

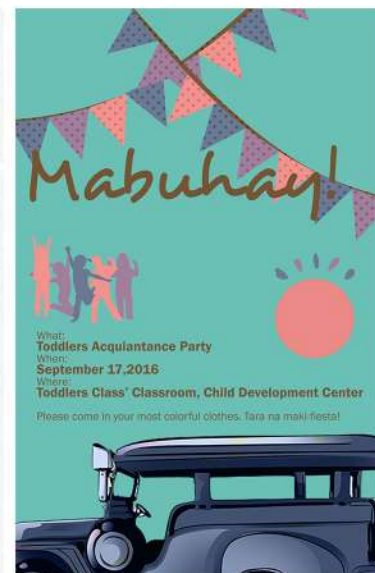

Proposing rules that prohibit students with academic deficiencies and students from other colleges to be part of an organization's executive committee; require a number of 15 members for an organization to be recognized; and prioritize senior organizations that have existed longer than others for their right to an org tambayan space, impinges our ability as students to gather and mobilize based on our unified and enduring passions and principles, at least within the premises of the college.

Such guidelines only serve to reflect the administration's lack of concern, especially with its responsibility to provide safe and conducive spaces for the student body and even aid us in our aspirations for collectivity and learning beyond the four corners of the classroom. As we unite with our fellow CMC student organizations in the call for the upholding of our democratic rights, we challenge the CMC administration to abolish all these unnecessary and repressive provisions.

JUNK THE FSRC MANUAL!
